

REALTOR® HAIR BUYS A HABITAT HOME

Darrell Blomberg, GRI, attended this year's Habitat for Humanity (www.HabitatAZ.org) gala with a goal to raise enough money to build an entire Habitat home, and he was willing to put his cherished ponytail on the block to do so. With a little prodding, the aggregate bidders reached the $65,000 mark, the cost of building a Habitat home. Blomberg, president of AzTech Realty, immediately grabbed a chair and said "cut it off"!

This is first time a Valley of the Sun Habitat for Humanity home has been built from monies raised for a haircut. Blomberg's hair was donated to Locks for Love (www.LocksofLove.org), an organization that handcrafts custom hairpieces for children suffering from medical hair loss. 🙏
